Write a paragraph in about 125 words on the following

Pollution in Cities

(industries - air and noise pollution by vehicles - pollution of water by industrial wastes - its harmful effects - how to prevent pollution)

Pollution is one of the major problems today. Development of industries has led to progress. But there are many ill-effects of this progress. There is pollution in air, on land and in water. Pollution in cities is mainly due to the increasing number of vehicles. Air is polluted because of the smoke, chemicals and gases. Besides, there is noise pollution because of honking of vehicles, microphones, loudspeakers and fireworks during Festivals. Factories pollute water by dumping chemical waste in it.

Polluted water spreads diseases and is harmful to agricultural products and soil. Dumping of garbage in the open also causes pollution. We must grow more trees and protect our forests. We must keep our houses and surroundings clean. We must stop polluting the sources of water.

My Favourite Festival - Diwali

(biggest festival – month - preparations - rangolis – festoons - rows of lamps - crackers - chopda poojan - New Year Day)

Diwali is the festival of lights. It is the most popular festival and it is celebrated by all the people across the country. Diwali usually comes in the month of October or November. Preparations for the festival begin well in advance. People clean and white-wash their houses. They buy new clothes. Children buy crackers. The women folk prepare sweets and other special Diwali delicacies.

On the day of Diwali, women draw colourful and attractive Rangoli designs. The doors are decorated with festoons made of marigold flowers and the leaves of the Ashoka tree. At night there are rows of earthen lamps in every house. Children burst crackers. On this day the businessmen perform the chopda poojan. Every shop is decorated with colourful lights and festoons. The New Year is also celebrated the next day with great joy. People wear new clothes, go the temples and visit their friends and relatives. They wish one another a Happy New Year.
